

Gallup, Cerrillos and Bland

News Notes From Exchanges

GALLUP.

From the Republican.

Mrs. B. L. Holmes gave a pleasant afternoon tea to a number of her friends, on the 21st inst.

A petted tree measuring forty-two feet in length and two and a half feet in diameter was found last week near the Weaver mine.

On account of ill health Miss Blanche Smith, has resigned her position as cashier of the Colorado Supply company.

Mrs. Theodore Maxwell, her daughter, Emma, and Arthur Maxwell, left for Marysville, Cal. Arthur will remain a month.

J. T. Keller, general manager of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company, arrived here a couple of days ago. The Catalina mine, which was closed down on the 15th of last month, will be reopened immediately. F. J. McAllister will be placed in charge of the mine.

Sam Brown, although a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat, is not a back number in any means. He wants the school and town boards and the citizens generally to take up the matter of Arter day and get a number of trees planted in the town this spring. It ought to be done.

Leon A. D. McIntosh, of San Juan county, stopped over here a few hours on Thursday on his way to Solomonville, Ariz. to assist his son James, who killed a man at Cerrillos a short time ago. Mr. McIntosh reports a prosperous state of affairs on the San Juan line, and that a few days before being offered for sale. The Government work on the line will be commenced in September.

Samuel Arnot and Clarence Callender went to Cerrillos last Saturday. Miss Hattie Arnot accompanied them and went on to Las Vegas, where she will attend school.

MOTHER GOOSE PARTY.

Unique Surprise Perpetrated on Prof. C. E. Hodgkin.

Twenty-five invitations to a "mother goose" party proved to be a surprise on Prof. C. E. Hodgkin by the normal girls of the University. It was about 9 o'clock when they reached the Casa de Mesa and Professor Hodgkin was astonished to see filling in Mother Goose characters from Mother Goose herself to Little Miss Muffet.

During the evening pictures to represent some Mother Goose rhyme were passed around and the guests were expected to guess the rhymes. Another guessing contest was to write as many words as possible from the words "Mother Goose."

Refreshments were served by the Queen of Hearts and Duffy-Down Dilly. Professor Hodgkin recovered from his surprise and proved himself a jolly and delightful host. It was late when the guests departed after a most jolly evening.

Those present were Nellie Brewer, Mabel Hunt, Minnie Craig, Lillian Huggins, Mae Hazeldine, Rob. Custers, Miss Ethel Hickoy, Mrs. C. E. Hodgkin, Miss Fanny, Miss Fenton, Edna Martin, Kate Cunningham, President T. H. Professor Hodgkin, Oliver van Wagner, Mr. Napier, Harvey Bittner, Grover Strong, Linus Shields, Tom Keleher, Ralph Halloran, John Cannon, James Wroth, Morris Rowie.

OTHER TOWNS.

Appears That All Incorporated Towns Went Republican Yesterday.

At East Las Vegas, K. D. Goodall, the republican candidate, was elected by a small majority. Tammie was elected clerk and Clarence E. Perry treasurer. The republicans carried a majority of the aldermen. Money, the candidate for mayor on the democratic ticket, was defeated on his opposition to sidewalks, etc. A native who had just voted the republican ticket dropped dead at the polls.

A telegram from Gallup gives the information that the democrats elected all their town trustees and school trustees candidates, except R. B. Landman, republican, who was elected a member of the school board.

A telegram to The Citizen this afternoon from Tucson says: Out of the six votes cast, Charles M. Bayne, the democratic candidate for mayor, received 123. The other republican candidates elected were: J. C. Orrin, clerk; Alfred Peterson, Henry Jones and Milton Narvaiz, aldermen; W. S. Connett, T. H. Thompson and F. Gama, members of the school board. The democrats elected C. M. Houck, treasurer; C. O. Madoulet, Con Murray, aldermen, and Bryant Rhea, member of the school board. A light vote was cast. Great voting by republican candidates last night.

A telegram to The Citizen from Santa Fe says: J. Sparks, republican candidate for mayor, received 62 majority over N. B. Langhille, democrat, and Lee Herrick, fusionist. Famoso Ortiz, clerk, and W. H. Anderson, treasurer, republicans, were elected. The republicans have a majority of five out of eight aldermen, and six out of eight school board, counting held votes.

Democracy elected the entire people's ticket.

SET FOR WEDNESDAY.

Walker Arrives on the Flyer and the Hearing is Set for That Time.

It is reported that Mrs. Walker arrived on the delayed flyer at 4 o'clock Monday morning, says the Las Vegas Optic. He was met at the depot by one of Mrs. Walker's friends and conducted over the Fulton gallery on Douglas avenue. Here for the first time he learned the nature of the trouble in which Mrs. Walker is involved. Her first telegram simply advised him to come, and her second telegram he never received. This was in serious trouble and asked him to hurry to this city. He is a farmer, and on receiving the first telegram he rode directly to Clinton, Iowa, and took the first train for Las Vegas.

Mrs. Walker's hearing was postponed from 4 o'clock Monday afternoon until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. The sitting of the coroner's jury has also been postponed to that hour. The taking of the evidence by the coroner's jury will necessarily take some little time. Whether or not the judge will care to bitterly prosecute the case is not known. Reports concerning this are conflicting. It is believed that her counsel postponed a hearing in the hope and belief that the judge would not prosecute the case when they had more material considered.

Mrs. Judd visited Dearth's undertaking parlors at 9 o'clock Saturday night and spent twenty minutes alone with her dead. Her grief was deeply pathetic. She is an old woman past 60 years of age and the nature of her husband's death added a poignant sting to the depth of her natural sorrow. He himself is a much older man than at first reported. The undertaker's certificate shows his age to have been 68 years. Mrs. Judd is said to have expressed the deepest sympathy for Mrs. Walker in the trouble in which she finds herself, and to have expressed the hope that Mrs. Walker would experience no abuse at the hands of Mr. Judd's friends.

TELEPHONE NOTES.

Over the Wire to The Citizen From Bland.

MINING NEWS.

(Mr. San Andreas.)

In the Dripping Springs mining district, forty miles east of San Marcial, is enjoying a boom, due largely to operations by the Salinas Mining company, who have begun a wagon road from the mine to the foot of the hill, over which to haul machinery which is now at Lava station. This machinery consists of separators, hoists and saws, and will be moved to the mine and installed as soon as the road is completed. A well is being sunk in the canyon a mile from the main shaft, which is the nearest point available. Houses are being built and a force of fifty men have begun taking out ore.

This is a lead proposition and was first located years ago while the Indians were yet troublesome. The ore, which is in a lime and porphyry cement, carries a trace of gold and three to six ounces silver. The company contemplates taking out at least 100 tons each day.

Rosedale.

The Martin company have shut down the mill at this point pending negotiations for a sale at the neat sum of $250,000. There are but few families now in camp, but it is expected the mill will be in running in less than a month when that pretty camp will take on its wonted activity.

Several deals are on hand for properties adjoining the original prospects and that district promises to soon be an important factor in New Mexico mining reports.

SIX CONVICTED.

District Attorney Llewellyn Makes a Good Record.

The El Paso News says that Major W. H. H. Llewellyn, district attorney for the Third judicial district of New Mexico, was in that city last Monday, making that about for Talayosa, New Mexico, on business. He had just finished the work of one term of court at Silver City, N. M., where six criminals were sent to the penitentiary, the docket there being unusually light. There were two mistrials in cases of alleged cattle theft. The only case of any importance tried was that of one Portillo, who was given a life sentence for the murder of an unknown man at Pinos Altos, presumably for the purpose of robbing. Portillo took his victim while the latter was intoxicated from a saloon and beat his brains out with a rock; and that of a woman named Sanchez, who was given three years for scolding her 12 year old daughter. She and her husband had separated and the act was presumably done to spite him.

When asked as to the chances of a prompt retrial of the Elephant Butte dam case in the event of its coming up again, the major said to a News reporter:

"I do not know anything about that, but you can say as coming from me, that El Paso will never get that international dam as long as the restrictive clause against New Mexico remains. It has been put in again, and the bill will be fought to the last. We are not in the least opposed to the building of the international dam, but on the contrary would like to see it built, if we are free to build others of our own above it. Unless this is done the dam will never be built."

WOMAN SWINDLER.

She is Working the Charitable People of Springer.

The Springer Stockman tells the following story:

"A woman claiming to have a sick husband at Las Vegas and who is well versed in facts concerning some business men who live there, was in the city this week. On false pretenses she secured the signatures of a couple of citizens and on the strength of that was soliciting subscriptions to carry her to Las Vegas to the bedside of her husband who was dying. The woman claimed that she had been married a year and since then had been leading a correct life, but that previous to assuming that obligation between her and some poor deluded fool, her life had been 'shady.' She could gather a tear in her eye when necessary and put a little over her misfortune. The citizens assisted her and later in the evening she imbibed freely in one of the saloons."

"She evidently gathered up $18 or $20, and had a male friend with her. They were both requested to move on. She is a small woman, pink nose, alcoholic breath, everything but good looking, wouldn't do in anyone's parlor and wouldn't be a safe person in any house. The southern towns' police might do well in watching her."

Raton went for Bayne.

Special Correspondence.

Raton, April 2.—Charles M. Bayne, the republican candidate for mayor, defeated J. H. Walker, Sr., democrat, by a majority of 211 votes, out of 636 votes cast. The republicans also elected the following: J. C. Orrin, city clerk; Alfred Peterson, Henry Jones, Milton Narvaiz, aldermen; W. S. Connett, T. H. Thompson, F. Gama, members of the city school board. The democrats elected the following: C. M. C. Houck, treasurer; C. O. Madoulet, Con Murray, aldermen; Bryant Rhea, member of the school board.

The democratic ticket consisted of J. H. Walker, Sr., for mayor; for city clerk, A. B. Cline; for city treasurer, C. M. C. Houck; for aldermen, First ward, Thos. Morrow and Henry Nash; Second ward, Con. Murray; Third ward, Chas. Rohr; Fourth ward, Louis Madrid. Members of the school board, First ward, Bryant Rhea; Second ward, Willam Ruffner; Third ward, C. D. Stevens; Fourth ward, Abran Cardinas.

On the republican ticket were: C. M. Bayne for mayor; city clerk, John C. Orrin; treasurer, J. F. White; aldermen, First ward, long term, Alfred Peterson; short term, J. S. Mackie; for member of school board, George Porter; Second ward, alderman, Daniel Troy; school director, Dr. Cornet; Third ward, alderman, Henry Jones; school director, T. B. Thompson; Fourth ward, alderman, Milton Narvaiz; school director, Francisco Gama.

Cerrillos Election.

Cerrillos, N. M., April 2.—The town and school election here was all in the nature of what was known as the "peep show" ticket, every man on the ticket being elected by a big majority. This was something of a solar plexus blow to that element controlled by Tony Nels, and that gentleman has not, up to date, quite determined "where he is at." The following is the ticket elected: For town trustees, James L. Wells, Dr. C. O. Harrison, Joe Vergilio, C. C. Green, Ross Griffiths.

For treasurer, W. A. Brown.

For school director, George M. Kin-sell.

Through a conspiracy, the parties to it being Horton Moore and George Oliver, the democratic candidate for mayor received one more vote than Bearup, the socialist. Oliver says he was misled.

This was all changed, however, when Jarlago, the premier matador, was preparing to thrust his long double edged sword into the heart of the fifth bull which had faced him. It stood in the center of the arena, bleeding from many wounds. Suddenly the bull made a quick lunge for the fighter. So unexpected was the move that the fighter was unable to make the customary side step. He was caught on the bull's horns in the middle of the body and tossed about like a toy balloon. Before he could be rescued, Jarlago's clothing was literally stripped from his body and his right leg and hip were severely lacerated. It will probably prove his last bull fight, as it is not thought that he will be able to again step in the ring as a matador.

ALBUQUERQUE.

HIS OBSERVATIONS.

While at Albuquerque Tuesday we and the pleasure of a trip through the new Alvarado hotel being built by the Santa Fe company. The entire building is furnished and everything in connection with it has a rich massive appearance, and is built on the old Spanish style. The outside finish is of stone; on the first floor is one of the finest appointed saloons in the west, or east for that matter, an office with a balcony, where an orchestra will discharge sweet music during meal hours, a large and elaborate dining room, the finest Harvey lunch counter on the system, a kitchen with plenty of room and everything up-to-date for work with, and a first class steam laundry with the latest improved machinery. On the second and third floors there are something over two sleeping rooms, about every two or three being supplied with water closet and bath room. Each room is carpeted and painted in different color and design. All the furniture is heavy and has a wealthy appearance. The iron bedsteads being furnished in mahogany, and the wood of solid oak with black finish. The depot and Wells Fargo Express building are built on similar plans, and are very commodious and convenient buildings for their respective purposes. These buildings are the finest in the country and Albuquerque visitors should not fail to inspect them.

The viaduct across the tracks, built partly by the Santa Fe and partly by the city is another important addition to the city's improvements, and the new St. Joseph's hospital, which will be ready for business about May 1, will be one of the best institutions of its kind in the southwest.

There is one thing certain that if Albuquerque becomes a large city, say of 50,000, the improvements she is making now will be sufficient for a town of that size.

The Daily Citizen and the Journal-Democrat are two of the best appointed printings in the southwest, and their papers will not have to be improved when the city reaches the 50,000 mark.—Holbrook Argus.

LEAD SMELTER BLOWS OUT.

The Plant at Silver City, N. M., is No Longer in the Field.

A special dispatch to the Denver News from Silver City under date of March 28, says:

The blowing of the big whistles at the smelter Saturday marked the closing of the plant. Although the shut-down is believed by many to be temporary, nearly all the men have found employment elsewhere, and by April 1 Superintendent Harms believes the business will be finished up, and the office employees dismissed.

The career of the smelter has been successful under efficient management, and when the big light is off, all look for a speedy reopening of the plant.

B. R. Thayer, superintendent of the Santa Rita mines, and the company's attorney, has returned from Santa Fe, where he was to make plans for securing timber from the Gila forest reserve for retimbering the mines at Santa Rita.

The building of a railroad between Pearce and Cochise is in contemplation by Manager Brockman of the Commonwealth company and formerly of Silver City, to afford transportation for the output of the mines owned by that company. The capacity of their mill will also be doubled and other extensive improvements made.

The shaft of the St. Louis mine, in the Burro mountains has been retimbered to the 100-foot level and drifting on the vein will be commenced at once. A continuous body of ore of over 800 feet will thus be given. Another station will be at the 190-foot level, where a fine ore body is located.

The establishment of a large industry in the Mogollon mountains is now a certainty and work will be commenced on the new smelter in the early summer.

Thomas Curran, president of the Mogollon Gold & Copper company, has returned from New York, having developed all the stock of that company. Development has been rapidly going on and a large amount of ore will be taken out during the next few months.

The new corporation, the Silver City Mining company, has decided to sink shafts to the depth of 100 feet on two or more of their claims. Officers of the company have not been elected, but the whole is composed of reliable Silver City men with plenty of capital to back any undertaking.

Contrary to general belief the slutt-town of the Silver City Reduction works has in no way affected local trade.

GORED BY ANGRY BULL.

Americans Cause Uproar Among the Spectators by Cheering the Animal's Work.

The usual Sunday bull fight at Juarez, Mexico, was accompanied by a somewhat unusual feature, the goaded animal turning the tables on the matador. Several bulls had been brought into the arena, but the amusement for the Mexican standpoint. There were many Americans among the spectators, who were somewhat disgusted with the brutal show, as horse after horse was gored by the tormented bulls while the pleaders and matadors escaped unscathed.

This was all changed, however, when Jarlago, the premier matador, was preparing to thrust his long double edged sword into the heart of the fifth bull which had faced him. It stood in the center of the arena, bleeding from many wounds. Suddenly the bull made a quick lunge for the fighter. So unexpected was the move that the fighter was unable to make the customary side step. He was caught on the bull's horns in the middle of the body and tossed about like a toy balloon. Before he could be rescued, Jarlago's clothing was literally stripped from his body and his right leg and hip were severely lacerated. It will probably prove his last bull fight, as it is not thought that he will be able to again step in the ring as a matador.

NORMAL UNIVERSITY.

rendition of complete masterpieces of dramatic art. Every student in the school is given the opportunity to enter into and enjoy some advantages of this character. On each annual class day a play is presented by the graduating class.

The library consists of three parts: The library of government publications, the Gould library, and the school library proper. The library of government publications consists of about 500 volumes, and is very valuable for reference work. The Gould library is a collection of about 400 volumes, mainly standard works in philosophy, history, and the sciences of man. This library is a loan of Dr. George T. Gould, of El Paso, Texas. The library proper consists of about 1,000 volumes, carefully selected by the heads of the different departments of the school, and it is a most excellent working library.

THE ORATORIO SOCIETY.

An Organization of Which New Mexico Is Proud.

One of the leading societies in the Las Vegas Oratorio society which is now arranging for its third annual musical festival. This year's festival will exceed that of any previous year and the chorus now numbers over a hundred voices. The chorus will be accompanied by a piano, organ and orchestra of eight or ten instruments.

This society was organized four years ago by Prof. J. G. McNary and with the exception of a year when he was abroad, it has given some production each year. This year the two oratorios, "Triumph of David," by Dudley Buck, and "The American Flag," by Dvorak, have been selected as the special features of the program which will be given May 29 and 30. It is expected to secure reduced rates for the festival. The soloists are not announced as yet, but there will be a superb quartet of them representing Chicago, St. Louis and Denver.

The credit for maintaining the society and for the delightful entertainments which have been given, belongs chiefly to Professor McNary, who has pushed it with indomitable energy. It is an organization which in its work and its festivals would be a great credit to a town ten times as large as East Las Vegas. It is a source of pride to the whole territory that a work of this magnitude and character is done in it.

The present officers are: President, James A. Dick; vice president, E. L. Brown; secretary, George A. Flouring; treasurer, Edward Reynolds; auxiliary committee, A. A. Jones, H. C. Pougnet, and R. C. Rankin; director, James Graham McNary; accompanist, Miss Reynolds and Miss Haines.

POST ELECTION GRIST.

Police Court Was a Busy Place This Morning.

Nicholas Metz, a gardener in south Albuquerque, was this morning fined $10 and costs in police court for assaulting Eugene Carter, the 11 year old son of R. W. Carter, a painter. There is a vacant lot near Metz's garden where the boys play and yesterday they knocked a ball over into Metz's garden. While they were hunting for it they pulled up some onions. Metz caught the Carter boy and struck him in the face with his fist so that the boy's lip was cut and his nose bled. Judge Crawford said he had no sympathy with a full grown man resorting to such tactics with a little boy. Metz took an appeal.

Joe Smith and William Evans, who claim to be miners, and James Dugan, of Gallup, were found in a Santa Fe car of fruit. They were charged with vagrancy and given ten days each.

George Hylberg, who claimed to be a printer, who has been working in Los Angeles, said he was on his way home, as he had a letter from his son, telling him of his mother's death. He said he sent all his money home. He presented his sister's letters to Judge Crawford, who found by reading them she gave the boy a bad reputation. He got ten days. M. Anderson, also a vagrant, was given the same dose and Juan Garcia got five days.

A Jolly Evening.

The G. Y. C. club, whatever that may mean, was entertained last evening by the B. O. C. club, whatever that may mean, but an organization of High school girls. The boys were entertained at the home of Miss Bessie Morton and they were taken into a darkened room where they bravely tried to keep up a conversation with skillfully arranged dummies. A jolly evening was spent. Those present were Miss Bessie Morton, Daisy and Rose Huntington, Birdie Barth, Jane Albright, Juanita Zeigler, Ralph Tascher, Carl Holman, Edgar Strumquist, Lawson Ald, Ward Anderson and Will Pratt.

Drilling for Oil Near Farmington.

Machinery was put in position this week and the work of boring has begun on the Pioneer oil wells near Farmington, San Juan county. The site selected for boring is within a few feet of a well in which water boring for water, natural gas was struck. Denver and Woolman Wagner have charge of the drill. It is intended to go down at least 1,000 feet. In fact, the contract is let for that distance.

Salazar's Funeral.

The funeral of Placido Salazar was held this morning from the church in the old town. It was one of the largest attended funerals ever seen here. Burial was in Santa Barbara cemetery.

W. E. Geary, formerly railroad agent at Carrollton, Ill., was in Las Vegas en route from California to Carrollton, where he will resume his old position.
